Risk Management Program (RMP) Information Sessions Coming in Early November

GUELPH – Agricorp is offering information sessions for grain and oilseed producers on the Risk Management Program (RMP) across Ontario in early November.

These sessions are primarily intended to provide eligible producers with information as they decide whether RMP will meet their individual business risk management needs. The deadline for submitting applications is November 15, 2007, and the sessions will take place between November 5, and November 12, 2007 in Woodstock, Ridgetown, Elmwood, Kemptville, Alfred, Coldstream, Alliston, and Douro.

Announced by the Ontario government on August 22, 2007, the Risk Management Program will help grain and oilseed producers offset losses from low commodity prices. It was designed in consultation with representatives of the grain and oilseed industry and the Ontario Federation of Agriculture. It joins the Canadian Agricultural Income Stabilization program and Production Insurance as part of an effective business risk management strategy.

Producers do not need to pre-register for the information sessions, which are being offered at the following dates and locations:
